REPORT:

TIMELY REDRESSAL OF GRIEVANCES THROUGH THE ANTI-RAGGING COMMITTEE DURING SESSION 2020-21

INTRODUCTION:

This report highlights the endeavours of the Anti-Ragging Committee in ensuring the timely resolution of grievances related to ragging incidents during the COVID-19 lockdown in the academic session 2021-22. Due to the pandemic, the college experienced prolonged closures, with most classes being conducted online. The Anti-Ragging Committee adapted to the challenging circumstances to maintain a safe and harassment-free environment.

OBJECTIVES:

The Anti-Ragging Committee pursued the following key objectives during the COVID-19 lockdown:

Vigilance and Communication: Maintain vigilance and regular communication with students and staff to address any potential ragging incidents, despite the limited physical presence on campus.

Virtual Awareness Campaigns: Organize online awareness campaigns and virtual seminars to educate students about the severe consequences of ragging and the committee's availability for reporting grievances.

Accessible Reporting Channels: Ensure that confidential reporting channels, such as email and online complaint portals, remain operational for students to report ragging incidents remotely.

Remote Investigations: Conduct prompt and unbiased investigations into reported grievances using virtual platforms to preserve the principles of natural justice.

Online Support and Counselling: Provide necessary support and counselling to victims of ragging through virtual means, promoting their well-being during the lockdown.

COMMITTEE INITIATIVES:

Despite the challenging circumstances posed by the COVID-19 lockdown, the Anti-Ragging Committee implemented the following initiatives:

Virtual Workshops: Conducted virtual workshops and webinars to sensitize students about the institution's anti-ragging policy and promote a respectful campus culture.

Online Helpline: Established a dedicated helpline number and email address to enable students to report ragging incidents confidentially, ensuring continuous access to reporting channels.

Real-Time Support: Ensured immediate responses to reported incidents, attending to grievances remotely and initiating virtual investigations as required.

Online Counselling: Arranged online counselling sessions for victims of ragging to provide emotional support and guidance throughout the lockdown period.

ACHIEVEMENTS:

Despite the limitations imposed by the COVID-19 lockdown, the Anti-Ragging Committee achieved the following:

Zero-Tolerance: Maintained a zero-tolerance policy towards ragging, effectively deterring potential incidents during the online learning period.

Effective Reporting: Encouraged timely reporting of incidents through accessible virtual channels, ensuring prompt action.

Awareness and Education: Successfully conducted virtual awareness campaigns, educating students about the consequences of ragging even in the absence of physical gatherings.

CONCLUSION:

The Anti-Ragging Committee demonstrated resilience and adaptability during the COVID-19 lockdown, ensuring the safety and well-being of students. By embracing virtual platforms and maintaining open lines of communication, the committee effectively addressed grievances related to ragging incidents, upholding a safe and respectful campus environment despite the unprecedented challenges.
